9 Emergency help

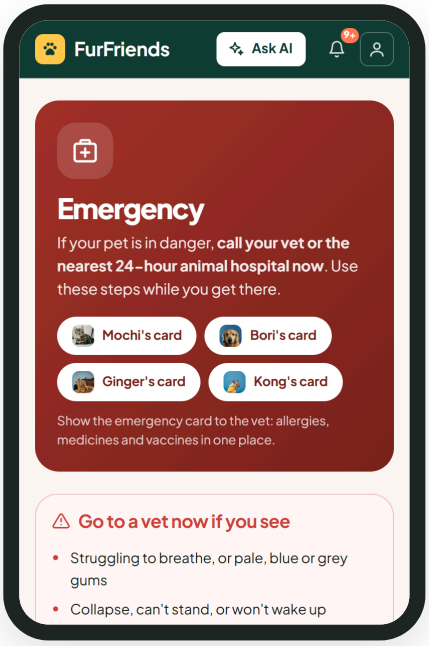

Clear first-aid steps for when something goes wrong, like poisoning, choking or heatstroke.

In a real emergency, call your vet or the nearest 24-hour animal hospital first.
Use these guides while you are getting help. They do not replace a vet.

Find a guide

1. Tap Emergency at the bottom (the red button).
2. Type the kind of problem in the search box, for example "poison", "bleeding" or "heat". Or scroll the list.
3. Tap the guide, for example Poisoning.
4. Follow What to do now, step by step.

Example: your dog ate chocolate → Emergency → Poisoning. (Search for "poison", not "chocolate". Chocolate is in the guide's list of common poisons.)

Emergency page

Show your vet the emergency card

At the top of the Emergency page, tap your pet's name (for example Mochi's card). It shows allergies, medicines and vaccines in one place.

Answers written by the FurFriends AI

FurFriends' own AI writes each answer from FurFriends' checked sources, shown under it as "Written by the FurFriends AI from…". There's nothing to download for it. The first question on a phone takes longer, because the app gets a small search tool once (about 30 MB), so use Wi-Fi. After that, an answer takes about 15–40 seconds, and the words appear as they're written.

The assistant is not a vet

It can sometimes pick the wrong answer. If your pet seems sick or hurt, call your vet, or use Emergency.

12 Profile, reminders & log out

Change your details, turn on reminders and add FurFriends to your home screen.

Tap the person icon at the top right to open your profile. (On a computer: Profile in the left menu.)

Get reminders on your phone

1. Scroll to Reminders & notifications.
2. Check that the Reminders switch is on (green). It's on when you first sign up.
3. Tap Allow notifications, then tap Allow when your phone asks.

You'll get alerts for meals, grooming, deworming, vaccines and vet visits.

Put FurFriends on your home screen

- Android: on the log-in page or in Profile, tap Install. No button? In Chrome's ⋮ menu, tap Add to Home screen (or Install app).
- iPhone: in Safari, tap the Share button, then Add to Home Screen. Do this first if you want reminders on iPhone.

Other things in Profile

- Change your name, phone or city, then tap Save changes.
- Type your current password and a new one, then tap Update password.
- Tap Log out when you use a shared phone or computer.

Problems & quick answers

I forgot my password.

The app doesn't have a reset button yet. Contact the FurFriends team and they can reset it for you. If you are still logged in somewhere, you can change it in Profile → Change password.

The page is blank or not loading.

Check your internet, then pull the page down to refresh, or close and open the browser again.

I can't add a photo or document.

Your browser may be asking for permission to use the camera or photos. Tap Allow. Use a JPG, PNG or PDF file.

I don't get reminders.

- Check that Reminders is switched on in Profile.
- Check that notifications are allowed for the site in your phone settings.
- On iPhone, add FurFriends to the Home Screen first.

The AI is taking a long time.

The first question gets a small search tool (about 30 MB), so connect to Wi-Fi and wait. After a quiet time, the AI also needs about half a minute to start. After that, answers take about 15–40 seconds, and the words appear as they're written. If the AI can't answer, you get the closest checked answer instead.

I saved something wrong.

Tap the 🖍️ pencil next to it to change it, or the 🗑️ bin to delete it.

Can I see my records on another phone?

Yes. Log in with the same email and password. Your records are saved to your account, not to one phone.

Who can see my pets' records?

Only you, when you are logged in. Log out on shared devices.

Please remember

FurFriends helps you keep records and learn about pet care. It is not a replacement for a veterinarian. If your pet is sick, hurt or acting strange, contact your vet.
